I would like to recommend RJ Maintenance for the outstanding work they completed on our new pergola installation. The project completed early November, and the final result has completely transformed our outdoor space.

From the first day on site, the team worked with care and professionalism. They handled everything, including preparing the area, creating solid foundations, installing the structure, securing all beams and posts, and applying protective treatment for long-term durability. They also made sure the style and finish matched the rest of our home, which we really appreciated.

What stood out to us:

• Reliability

They arrived when they said they would and kept the work on track.

• Excellent workmanship

Every part of the pergola was built with precision. The structure is solid, neat, and looks like it will last for many years. They paid attention to the small things — straight lines, smooth finishes, clean joins — and it shows.

• Respect for our home

The team protected surrounding areas, kept tools and material organized.

• Communication

We always knew what was happening next. Any changes were discussed first, and their advice was practical and helpful.

The pergola has added real value and enjoyment to our home, and we could not be happier with the final result. I would happily work with RJ Maintenance again and recommend them to anyone needing reliable, quality workmanship.
